Standards for Student Organization Conduct

The University is committed to maintaining a safe and healthy living and learning environment for students, faculty and staff.

Student organization behavior that is not consistent with the Student Organization Code of Conduct is addressed through an educational process that is designed to promote safety and good citizenship, and when necessary, impose appropriate consequences.

Student Organization Member Responsibilities

Members of student organizations are expected to be good citizens and to engage in responsible behaviors that reflect well upon their student organization and the University; to be civil to one another and to others within the campus community; and to contribute positively to student and University life.

Virginia State University has established the following Student Organization Code of Conduct to ensure that all student organization officers and members understand and accept responsibility for the actions of themselves, their members and guests.

Application of This Code

The Office of Student Conduct and the Department of Student Activities will exercise jurisdiction over recognized student organizations and member conduct, including fraternities, and sororities. Action by the Office of Student Conduct does not preclude action by one of the Greek Councils, or other governing bodies.

Sanctions for the conduct listed below may be imposed on student organizations found responsible for violating the Student Organization Code of Conduct. Sanctions may include, but are not limited to, actions such as withdrawal of recognition, suspension of recognition for a specified period of time, probation (warning that might lead to a more severe sanction), restriction of privileges, reprimand, and restitution for losses caused.

Conduct that threatens the safety or security of the campus community, or substantially disrupts the functions or operation of the University, is within the jurisdiction of this Code, regardless of whether it occurs on or off campus.

Student Conduct Process

The Director of Student Activities and/or designee will meet with the President and Advisor of the organization to discuss the allegations. If the advisor is not available, the meeting will proceed. If the allegations warrant the need to include the Office of Student Conduct, the Director will provide a written statement to the Director of Student Conduct to proceed with a hearing. The Office of Student Conduct has the responsibility for adjudicating cases based on allegations of misconduct. All allegations are to be submitted in writing. The University will proceed with written complaints but reserves the right to proceed without a written complaint. The Office of Student Conduct sends a letter to the president and advisor informing them of the charge(s) and requesting their appearance at a pre-hearing conference. The president is advised of his/her/their rights at the pre-hearing conference. The president and advisor then will appear to the hearing, which is recorded. If either party fails to appear to the hearing, the hearing will proceed. It is the president's right to accept or reject any imposed sanctions. If the president believes his/her/their due process rights have been violated or the sanction was too excessive, he/she/they may submit a written request of appeal to the Vice President of Student Success and Engagement within three days of the notice of sanctions, to have the case reviewed. The Vice President of Student Success and Engagement shall review the allegations and all evidence relating to them, and shall have the discretion to further interview the organization's leadership, advisor, and student members. The Vice President's decision shall be final. The President of the organization will be notified of the University's final decision within 10 business days.

Governance

All student organizations are required to be registered with the University through the process administered by Student Activities. Registered student organizations are subject to University governance and are responsible for the conduct of their members. Governance pertains to University policies and procedures, including local, state, and federal laws, to which student organizations, including fraternities and sororities, are held responsible.
